

Stella is a 3½ year old Pit Bull Terrier. She had a mast cell tumor in her throat and needed help from Magic Bullet Fund. We hope “Stella-Bella” will have a long, happy, cancer-free life with her loving family in Sayreville, New Jersey.

Greta has lung cancer. She’s 10 years old and we hope that through chemotherapy we will give her more time with Greg, Rozanna and their son Caelan in Los Angeles, California.

Sophie Lou was only 1½ years old when a tumor was found on her leg. Magic Bullet Fund agreed to pay for surgery. Nineteen months later, Sophie continues to bring great joy to Jenny, Daryl and their daughter Baylea, her family in Springdale, Arkansas.

Rookie was diagnosed with lymphoma at 7 years old. Magic Bullet Fund helped Rookie through chemotherapy. He has been in remission for 19 months in Boynton Beach, Florida.

Bullet

Bullet, was 9 years old. He was strong, happy and the picture of health in July 2000, when he was diagnosed with lymphoma. Bullet’s caretaker was medical animal writer Laurie Kaplan, editor of Catnip magazine.

Laurie said “Cancer may take Bullet, but Not today and Not without a fight!”

Help Your Dog Fight Cancer is the award-winning book by Laurie Kaplan, founder of the Magic Bullet Fund. Laurie accepted the first Magic Bullet Fund dog into treatment on November 20, 2005 and went on to see 35 more dogs through treatment... so far.

Sally is a 13-year-old New York City girl. Sally had osteosarcoma (bone cancer). She had surgery to remove the leg, and follow-up chemotherapy. Nine months since diagnosis, she’s holding her own.

Tensing was 7 when he needed our help. Magic Bullet Fund did help “T-Man” through chemotherapy for cutaneous lymphoma. He’s been in remission for a year in Sparta, Missouri.

A FIGHTING CHANCE TO SURVIVE CANCER

MAGIC BULLET FUND

Those who can provide treatment for their dogs with cancer are fortunate. Those who cannot need our help.

TREATMENT MISSION

Magic Bullet Fund's #1 task: to make treatment a reality for dogs with cancer whose caretakers lack financial resources. The dogs we help would not be able to have cancer treatment at all without our assistance.

Our primary mission is to give more dogs a chance to survive cancer. At best, we give dogs a cure or a long remission. At least, we allow families an extended goodbye and time to create precious memories.

AWARENESS MISSION

Every day, thousands learn their dog has cancer. Still, most families respond to the diagnosis with shock and are unprepared.

Magic Bullet Fund's #2 task is to raise awareness and heighten public awareness about canine cancer. Our programs promote prevention and early detection.

Clients suffer greatly when they can't afford treatment that might extend or could save their dogs' lives. The Magic Bullet Fund is doing amazing work in honor of the human-animal bond and I am proud to be playing a part as a consultant for this fund.

The committed caretaker is aware, informed, and prepared. Learn how to reduce your pet's risk for cancer and detect early warning signs. Become informed about medical treatment and home-care options. Spay and neuter early, buy pet insurance and keep your environment safe for your pets.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

Research projects and campaigns to cure canine cancer abound. Magic Bullet Fund brings canine cancer out of the laboratories, pharmaceutical companies and academic funding programs.

To the family of a dog with cancer, the goal is not to advance medical science or to find a cure. To the family of a dog with cancer, the goal is to spare or extend the life of a beloved companion, a valued family member.
